Singapore, 21 May 2020 – In collaboration with a group of healthcare workers, Ding Yi Music Company (鼎艺团) presents a meaningful rendition of a Michael Jackson classic – Heal The World, a gift from the healthcare heroes to all who are affected by this pandemic.

Music is known for its power to heal. While these healthcare workers are at the frontline healing and caring for patients, they also use music as a form to heal themselves in these difficult times. This video hopes to share the message for everyone to stay home, stay safe and give strength to our healthcare heroes who are committed to their work in the frontline.

Ding Yi General Manager Elvia Goh said, “This is a special and heartfelt collaboration as we often play music to heal people and as a form of well-being but in this instance, we see our healthcare heroes using the powerful tool of music to keep themselves strong. We hope every Singaporean can appreciate what these healthcare heroes have done for the nation, and we should keep our responsibility to remain home where possible.”

This video will be launched on Thursday, 21 May 2020.
